“SUHBA for Service” Day

October 5, 2018

Working Together to help Build a Better Community!

SUHBA for Service day Overview:

2018 SUHBA for Service October 5, 2018

Southern Utah Home Builders Association (SUHBA) members work together to BUILD a better community. SUHBA members dedicated approximately four hours to help nonprofit organizations in need of minor repair and improvement projects during “SUHBA for Service” day on October 5, 2018.

- On October 5, 2018, SUHBA held the 1st Annual “SUHBA for Service” Day helping 5 non-profit organizations.
 1. St. George Musical Theater
 2. Switchpoint Community Resource Center
 3. Dove Center
 4. Memory Matters Utah
 5. Root for Kids
- “SUHBA for Service” volunteers met at the Veterans Park for a pancake breakfast at 7:00 am to kick off our 1st Annual Service Day.
- 85 volunteers with 23 companies dedicated 320 hours on projects and repairs including painting, laying carpet, installing cabinets, remodeling and landscaping.

Jeff Madsen:

- As members of SUHBA, we recognize the blessings of living in such a great community that has afforded us the opportunities to work and live in this beautiful area. As such, we set out to give back. The best way we came up with was to help those who help others, mainly non-profit organizations. I was able to lead a team of volunteers in turning an old kitchen into a useful and beautiful dressing room at the St. George Musical Theater. It was a tight fit with the amount of people we had, and we had some obstacles, but we overcame and had a blast. I think it turned out great and hopefully will help the community theater in continuing to provide great entertainment.
